A GROWING NEWSPAPER A GROWING COMMUNITY

OPENING SOON!
Campbell Drugs & Pharmacy
Santa Clara County's Finest Modern Drug-Prescription

EXPRESSIONS OF CONFIDENCE . . . Faith in both the community and its newspaper has been demonstrated by the owners of the modern new Campbell Drugs and Pharmacy, located in the Campbell Shopping Center. In the above picture, L. E. (Bill) Means, co-owner of the new store, receives the first Campbell Press advertising space contract ever signed here, from Mrs. Anita Jacobus, of The Press.—Campbell Press photo.

OWNERS OF NEW DRUG STORE SHOW CONFIDENCE IN FUTURE OF AREA

That is the way the Campbell Drugs and Pharmacy, which opens the week after Easter, has been described by those who have had a glimpse of the new store.

All was hustle and bustle at the store this week as the last-minute details for the opening were being completed. The store is located in the Campbell Shopping Center, next to the Lee Bros. Market, at the corner of Winchester Road and Latimer Ave. The interior has been designed by Al Spears, noted sppcialist in store modernization.

The 40 x 70 foot store has been arranged with the convenience of the customer in mind and only the latest design has been used for merchandise fixtures, lighting effects, and color schemes throughout. The prescription department lay-out, for example, is rated as the outstanding one in the entire west.

Jointly Owned

The new store is jointly owned by L. E. (Bill) Means and Mrs. Winona Clark. Means has been manager of Clark's Drugs in Campbell for the past eight years. Mrs. Clark has been the sole owner of Clark's Drugs since the death of her husband, Dan, in 1948. The Clarks purchased the store from Mr. and Mrs. Victor Holmes in 1929.

The new store will be operated independently of Clark's Drugs but Means will manage both establishments.

Mrs. Clark and Means feel that the new store answers the need for the growing community of Campbell. They feel the additional lines that will be carried and the services that will be offered will give the people of Campbell facilities in this field that are comparable to any city in the entire Santa Clara Valley.

"The stores are planned to complement each other. There is a definite need for both." That is the way the owners put it.

The two local residents have indicated their complete faith in the future of Campbell by their extensive investment in the new store. They are both appreciative over the support the community has given them in the past.

Both of them told The Campbell Press that they felt that the community newspaper, which they have used almost exclusively in the past as their advertising medium has played a large part in whatever success Clark's Drugs has had. They plan to use the paper even more in the future.

On The Line in Campbell

Chief of Police Robert Locke reported this week that a list of known bad check-passers in this area was available to local merchants either at the Chamber of Commerce office or at the police station.

He also reported that Bobbie Groves, 23, 17125 Wedgewood, Campbell, was arrested this week on a forgery charge. He is allegedly to have passed bad checks both in Los Gatos and Campbell.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Welker are reported to have purchased the Western Auto Supply Store, 50 Campbell Ave., from Mr. and Mrs. Carl Olson.

—o—

John Rokovich of Mountain View has been installed as new president of the Santa Clara Firemen's Association. He succeeds Jack Chappell of Campbell. Bill Morgan, also of Campbell, has been named to the executive committee.

—o—

Sam Cava, secretary-manager of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce, was confined to his bed by a heavy cold the first few days of this week.

—o—

Pete Lico, owner of the Towne Pride Market, 369 E. Campbell Ave., this week expanded his market by knocking out the wall between and taking over the building formerly occupied by Sanitation District No. 4. The Sanitation District moved into the vacant store next to it.

—o—

Jean Haggland was employed Monday night by the Campbell City Council as secretary at $240 per month for W. L. (Bud) Morser, building inspector. She takes up her duties on April 1.

—o—

Spring registration for next year's kindergarten class in the Campbell Union School District will be conducted at all the offices of the elementary schools beginning April 2 and continuing through April 13. In order to enter kindergarten, children must be four years and nine months of age on or before September 1, 1956. Parents should bring a birth certificate or other proof of age with them at the time of registration.

Mayor Richard Morton on Monday night criticized those council candidates who had not bothered to attend a council meeting since they had filed for office. He pointed out that by attending meetings they could gain some idea of what was going on in the city. The mayor's criticism was prompted by the fact that of the seven candidates (other than the two incumbents) only one, Myron L. Fairchild, was in attendance at the council meeting Monday night.

Three More Military Units Join Parade

Three military units this week notified the Old Settlers' Day parade committee, headed by R. B. (Bob) Houston that they would march in the parade here on Saturday, May 5.

One of the special features of this year's event will be the choosing of the "Mother of the Year" for Campbell. Mrs. Sarah Blue, as chairman of this committee, has notified each organization in the community to nominate a candidate for this honor. Nomination papers must be returned to the Chamber of Commerce by April 23.

Starts on Friday

The big three-day event will start off on Friday, May 4, with the Campbell Footlighter's production, and old fashioned "melodrammer". This production which has been given the heart-rending title of "The Curse of an Aching Heart" or "Caught in the Spider's Web" will be presented in the auditorium at the high school. Mr. and Mrs. Legg, co-chairmen of the entertainment committee for Old Settlers' Day announced this week that tryouts for the melodrama, which has been written by Herbert Swayne, will take place Monday at 8 p. m. in the auditorium at the high school. Marg Chamberlain, of the San Jose State College speech and drama department, will direct the production.

Friday night's play is directly tied in with the queen contest which is under the direction of Orrin Accardi. Each organization in the community has also been asked to nominate a girl between the ages of 17 to 25 for queen of the three-day affair. The winning candidate will be selected on the basis of votes received from the sale of tickets for the play.

Herbert Shadle, chairman of the Old Settler's welcome committee, has reported that he has contacted more than 125 old-timers who will be present as guests of the community for the 64th annual celebration of Old Settler's Day.

Indications are that the parade this year will outshine last year's event with more bands already assured.

Sixth Army headquarters from the presidio at San Francisco will be represented with a 29-man marching unit for an honor guard and two Air Force outfits will also march. These two units, a 33-piece Hawaiian Drill Team, and a 35-piece Air Force Band, will come here from Parks Air Force Base.

DISTRICT TO VOTE ON STATE AID

Residents of the Campbell Union High School District on June 12 will vote to authorize the trustees to accept up to $950,000 in State aid for the purchase of three new school sites, it has been announced by school officials.

The sites are being purchased under a long range planning program. District officials are negotiating to buy 48 acres at the northwest corner of Lovell and Harriet avenues where the district's third high school will be located. The district is now bonded to capacity.

Winchester Road, on Saturday, were arrested late Monday night through the joint efforts of the Campbell police and county sheriff's department. Also in the picture are Campbell police officers Gordon Rooney (in the back) and Dick Mayne on the right. Involved in the crime with Woods were Keith Keeley, 20, Herbert Wenks, 18, and Vincent Portera, 18, all of San Jose. ..Woods, Keeley, and Wenks were arraigned Wednesday and bail was set at $5000 cash and $10,000 bond. —Campbell Press photo.

Campbell Area Churches Observe Easter Season

Residents of the Campbell area joined Christians the world-over this week to mark the Resurrection of Christ more than 1900 years ago.

Holy Week Easter services actually began on Palm Sunday and will come to a joyous conclusion this Sunday, Easter.

Catholics this year marked a change in their observance of Holy Week when Pope Pius XII decreed the restoring of services to times observed during the Middle Ages.

St. Lucy's Church

Papal decree has restored several Holy Week services in the Catholic Church to the original times they were observed during the Middle Ages.

—o—

Holy Thursday will be observed with High Mass, communion and procession at 6 p. m.

—o—

Usual three hour Good Friday devotionals will not be held at St. Lucy's Church this year, but Stations of the Cross and a sermon will take place at 5 p. m., with Liturgical service and communion at 5:45 p. m.

—o—

Holy Saturday will be observed with confessions at 3:30 to 6 p. m., and 7 to 10 p. m. Blessing of the font and renewal of baptismal promises will take place at 11 p. m. High Mass of Easter will be celebrated at midnight.

—o—

Easter morning Masses at the church will be at 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, and 12:15, with Masses at 8 and 9 held also in the parish school.

—o—

Assembly of God

Pastor Herbert Johnson will deliver his Easter sermon, "Resurrection, Eternity and Heaven" at 11 a. m. Sunday.

Mrs. John DeRugeris will sing "Open the Gates of the Temple" accompanied by the choir, and will be also heard in "Before the Dawn". "The Holy City" will be the trombone solo by Paul Montesano.

Professor Herbert Kimber of Bethany Bible College will sing and bring a devotional in original poems and testimony at the 7:30 p. m. service.

The regular Sunday School session at 9:45 a. m. will feature an Easter program.

Methodist-Congregational

Dr. Corwin Olds and Rev. Del Hollenberg of the First Congregational Church and Rev. Herbert Neale of the First Methodist Church will be speakers at Union Good Friday Services from 1:00 to

Merchants Sponsor Easter Egg Hunts At Local Schools

More than 90 dozen eggs have been furnished by the Campbell Merchants Stamp Association for the Easter Egg hunts at Campbell area schools this week. The hunts are a cooperative venture between the Association and the Campbell High School area recreation program with valuable prizes going to the youngsters taking part.

In addition to the egg hunt, special events have been arranged in the afternoon at the schools for youngsters from 9 to 12 years of age. These events include relays and races, egg-rolling, three-legged race and sack races. Prizes will be awarded to the winners.

The "hunts" take place in the morning for children from 5 to 8 years with special prizes going to those finding gold eggs.

Lowell Benson and Emily McConnell represent the Stamp Association, with Kenneth Robinson, of the recreation department coordinating the program.

The "hunts" will take place today at the Moorpark, Monroe and Cherry Lane schools with the morning program starting at 10 and the afternoon program at one o'clock.

Hamilton School will have its hunt on Saturday with Adrian Cibilich at leader. Earl Morway is the playground leader at Moorpark School, Mark Jennings at Monroe and Allen Watson at Cherry Lane.

Candidates Talk Next Tuesday

All nine of the candidates for the three City Council positions will have an opportunity next Tuesday, April 5, to state their platforms at a candidates' forum sponsored by the Campbell Business and Professional Women's Club.

The forum will take place in Room 84 at the high school and will get under way promptly at 8 p. m. Mrs. S. Albert Ellis is the BPW chairman for the program.

George Vierhus, editor and publisher of The Campbell Press, will be moderator of the forum and will hold a stop watch on the candidates when they sound off so they don't run over their scheduled time limits.

There are three positions to be filled on the City Council at the April 10 election and this will be the only opportunity the residents of Campbell will have to see and hear the candidates en masse.

Members of the Business and Professional Women's Club are sponsoring the forum because they feel that more interest than so far has been evidenced should be shown in the coming election.

Unless the tempo in the campaign picks up during the next week, the election on April 10 will go down in the records as one of the most quiet in the city's short history, civic leaders maintain.

Two incumbents, John Chargin, an attorney, and Charles Rose, a merchant, are seeking reelection. Councilman Gordon Daum is not seeking reelection because the press of his personal business makes it impossible to do justice to the job.

One woman, Mrs. Carolyn Coons Payne, a teacher in the Moorpark School, is in the race. In the last city election in 1954 when all five members were named to the City Council, Mrs. Payne ran a close sixth.

Mayor Morton publicly called attention at the Council meeting to the lack of interest in the campaign when he pointed out that only one candidate (other than the incumbents) was at attendance at the council meeting. The mayor felt that this lack of interest on the part of both the public and candidates was an unhealthy sign. He thought all the candidates should attend the council meetings to learn something about what was going on in the city government.

Other candidates who have promised to attend the forum next Tuesday at the high school include, T. M. (Ebb) Bohn, public relations; Fred T. Burt, accountant; E. Jerry Collins, machinist; Myron L. Fairchild, investments-insurance; Perry Hull, carpenter; and Claude Smith, salesman.

COUNCIL ADOPTS NUMBERS

Campbell's long-awaited new house and building numbering plan was officially adopted by the City Council Monday night and will become effective in 30 days as City Ordinance No. 94.

Written into the ordinance, however, is the stipulation that residents will have 60 days to change their old numbers for new ones. Numbers for new buildings will be issued as soon as the ordinance goes into effect.

Nestor Barrett, planning consultant, was authorized to call a meeting under the direction of the Planning Commission of all interested agencies including the utilities, post office and newspapers, to discuss the most efficient means of coordinating the issuance of the new numbers. The building inspector, W. L. (Bud) Morser is responsible for the issuing of the numbers.

The Council accepted the resignation of Sgt. Darrell Rachford from the police force in order for him to accept the appointment as chief of police of Alturas in Modoc County and appointed Carl F. Arnold, 32, 272 N. Carlyn Ave., Campbell to the police force to fill the vacancy.

Arnold who goes on duty April 1, has been employed as radio operator with the County communications system and has been a Campbell auxiliary police officer since May, 1955. Chief of Police Robert Locke in recommending the appointment of Arnold told the Council that Arnold would be the fourth man to be appointed to the force who had served as an auxiliary officer.

Locke was also authorized by the Council to prepare a competitive examination to fill the sergeant's vacancy.

To Waive License

The Council unofficially agreed to waive the license fee of the carnival for Old Settlers' Day, May 4-5-6, provided the Chamber of Commerce, the sponsoring organization, would meet the conditions of last year plus the additional precaution that Latimer Ave., must be free for traffic flow. The carnival will be located at Winchester Road and Latimer Ave. George Kemp, general chairman, for Old Settlers' Day, was present with the necessary concontracts but the official blessing of the Council was delayed until next meeting.

The City Dads also held up the approval of the permit for the street parade for Old Settlers' Day. Upon Mayor Richard Morton's suggestion that the request for the parade should "go through channels" the request was referred

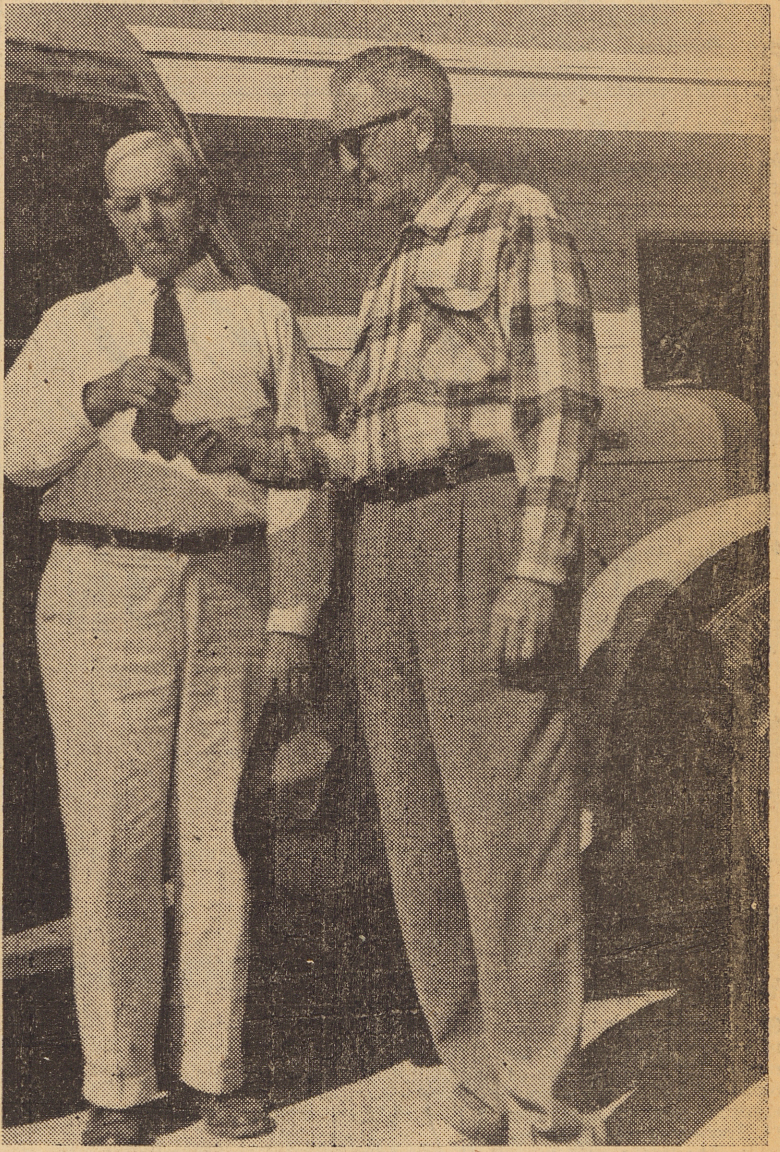
METAL POLES GET CLOSER

Having obtained more than enough signatures on the necessary petitions, residents of one section of Campbell this week were confident that the way was cleared to form a district within a district in order to get metal street light standards within their particular area.

Philip Lively, 291 Richlee Drive, who has spearheaded the movement from the beginning, reported this week that 74 householders in the Kuehnis area have signed the petitions with only 69 needed to gain the necessary 60 per cent to form the special district. It is hoped to present the petition to the Supervisors Monday, April 2.

The action of the residents in the so-called Kuehnis area, which includes Kuehnis Drive, Richlee Drive, April Way, and Robway Ave. stems from a "revolt" staged when the P. G. & E. began placing wooden street light poles in the area.



A LONG HAUL . . . Joe A. Rogers, (on the left) who for 31 years has been driving a Campbell High School bus, receives an honorary life-time pass from Forrest Reese, district transportation chief. Rogers drove the school bus for the last time Friday when he reached the compulsory retirement age. ..He lives on a 10-acre prune ranch at 593 Virginia Ave. He started driving in September, 1924, when the high school was located across the street from its present location. He estimates he has driven 500,000 miles for the district in the 31 years without any serious accident. There were three small busses back in 1924 compared to today's 12 huge jobs. Other changes in the transportation system for the schools have been equally as drastic. He recalls that during depression bus drivers received $50 per month and all extra trips were free.—Campbell Press photo.

ARNOTT FILES FOR NEW BOARD

E. E. Arnott, 240 San Jose-Los Gatos Road, a resident of Campbell since 1940, filed this week for the new seven-member County Board of Education, to be elected at the June 5 primary.

Deadline for candidates is tomorrow. Under new legislation the board's composition will be changed from five professional educators to seven laymen. Six of the new members will be from specific areas in the county and the seventh will be an at-large member.

Arnott, who has 30 years experience as a teacher in the mid-west has been in the construction and industrial business since coming to California. At press time he was the lone candidate for Area IV of the county made up of the Campbell and Los Gatos high school districts.

Although all the voters in the county will vote on all the candidates (12 have filed so far) only one will be elected from each area. No candidate had filed by Wednesday from two of the districts. The new board will act in an advisory capacity and is expected to have more authority than the professional group, that makes up the County Board of Education.

Red Cross Falls Short of Goal

Howard E. Lillingston, 1956 chairman of the annual Red Cross Fund Drive for the Campbell area reported this week that a total of $2700 has been collected to date toward the $5000 quota. He said that many area chairmen had been late in reporting but was still disappointed in the slowness of response in the Campbell area.

The Red Cross Drive will end this weekend and drive officials hope the quota will be fulfilled by then.

BILLS CAUSE IRATE CALLS

Billing potential members of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce for dues has resulted in a number of irate calls from some of those receiving ing the bills, the Chamber of Commerce office reported this week.

In most cases those protesting had not bothered to read the letter that had been sent to them previously notifying them of the new classification of membership and the new dues schedule.

The Chamber has been revitalized through the employment of Sam Cava as secretary-manager, a program for the overall community betterment has been planned but, in order to carry it out, financial support is needed from business and professional people and residents of the community.

Hence the new dues schedule. Hence the statements.

The only obligation anyone has to pay the dues, Milt Nelson, president, points out, is the obligation to make Campbell a better place in which to live or work.

to the city traffic engineer (Morton) and Chief Locke for recommendation also at next meeting, although no obstacle appears in the way for granting it.

Fire Chief Jack Scott submitted his annual report to the Council which showed a loss on buildings and contents in the city was only $5500 from March 1, 1955 to March 16, 1956, with a total of 170 incidents. Property loss per capita on a population of 10,000 was 55 cents.

Elmer D'Angelo, assistant city engineer, reported to the Council that Civil Defense authorities have granted the city $2621 for rehabilitation work for the December floods, while LeRoy Black, street superintendent, told the Council that his department needed an evtra $2597 to just resurface Winchester Road because his budget had been sidetracked by the same floods. The Council decided to wait for the federal money before giving Black the okay to go ahead on Winchester.

Mayor Morton was authorized by his fellow councilmen to proclaim April as Cancer Control Month" on the request of Mrs. Sarah Blue and the week of April 23-37 as Public Schools Week on the request of William C. Henley.

The council was also advised that Mary and Tobin Salciccia were seeking annexation to the city of three acres of their property located at the southwestern corner of Union and Campoell avenues.

E. C. Merrill, city treasurer, reported that $3903.24 had been received during the week from the P. G. & E. for their portion of franchise tax. Councilmen noted that this amount exceeded the budget estimate by seven dollars.

April 23 was set as the public hearing date on the Hamilton "jog" matter. The Planning Commission recently approved the engineer's plan for the widening of Hamilton Ave., after several months of controversial discussion and the matter now comes before the Council for final action.

The Council also adopted Ordinance No. 95 which lowers the speed limits on several city streets.

Mayor Morton reported on the recent meeting between the county and cities on the uniform sales tax and he criticized the supervisors for their insistence BURNED UP . . . James D. Rasmussen, deputy county fire marshal, points to where he thinks the fire started that swept through the wooden structure housing the engine of Billy Jones' miniature railroad near Los Gatos last Thursday night. The "Wildcat Railroad", popular center for both the kids and adults of this area will be out of commission for several months. Neighbors, townspeople and friends of Billy Jones, however, have rallied to his aid and it is expected that the trains will again be running over the famous quarter-mile track sooner than was first anticipated—Campbell Press photo.

More About . . .

DRUG STORE

To emphasize this point Means this week signed an advertising contract with The Press, the first in this paper's history, specifying the number of inches of space that he will use for the remainder of the year. With the cooperation of The Press Means plans to carry on an extensive advertising campaign.

"We have had outstanding results with the advertising in The Press in the past," Means said. "Through our own surveys we have found that the Campbell Press-Merchandiser combination was giving such complete coverage in the Campbell shopping area that using any other means to present our message was superfluous."

"That is the main reason," he continued, that we plan to expand and intensify our use of the paper in the future".

Even the Classifieds

"For a concentrated coverage of this area," Means advises, "The Press has proved its worth to us many times". Recently he said he advertised in the classified columns for help, in addition to The Press he used a San Jose daily.

Although he received several replies from the San Jose ad, none of the parties were residents of the Campbell area, whereas the replies from The Press ad were all Campbell people.

Rotarians Hold Annual Dance

Merv Willoughby, program chairman, introduced entertainment of the evening which included piano solos by two Camden High School students, Danny Lonzini and Camelia Piazza.

Willis Dahl and Linda Roth, well-known local duo, were heard in a group of western numbers. Entertainment also included musical numbers by members of San Jose Light Opera Company.

Dancing to the music of Bob Barry and his orchestra followed the dinner and program.

C OF C NEEDS SUPPORT

That Campbell needs an active Chamber of Commerce there can be no doubt.

But it takes the support of business and professional people and residents alike before a C. of C. can operate efficiently. This support, incidentally, must, of necessity, be of a material nature.

Words of encouragement are helpful, but without the money to carry on the projects, mere words are not much help.

The local Chamber of Commerce has established new classifications for membership. Potential members will be billed for their dues based on this new classification.

At the present time, the local C. of C. has been revitalized. Sam Cava has been employed as a full-time secretary-manager and an ambitious program for community betterment has been outlined. But without dues, the Chamber will cease to function.

There is no money in the treasury to carry on any program, for the Chamber of Commerce, as you well know, was dormant for six months or more before Cava took over the job as manager.

Such an organization has a vital part to play in a community such as Campbell which is faced daily with problems that are directly attributed to the ever-present growing pains.

There is no other body that can function in its stead. It can coordinate its activities with the City Council and it can cooperate with the many other civic groups. It can contact industries and it can work in general for a better community.

But it cannot do these things without money.

We urge all potential members to pay their dues at once.

Your community needs your support.

THE NEW COUNTY BOARD OF EDUCATION

On June 5, at the primary election, voters of Santa Clara County will elect a brand-new seven-man County Board of Education.

Because it is a new organization, there has been considerable confusion over just what it all means to the public.

There have always been county boards of education, but they have been made up of professionals in the field of education. Their authority has been more or less limited to rubber-stamping activities and very little, if anything, has been contributed by them to the education picture.

The new board, for which we will vote in June, will be composed of laymen who are not affiliated in any way with the teaching profession.

By divorcing the board from those who are actively engaged in education work, the apparent intent is to create more interest in school affairs among the other citizenry.

It is anticipated that the new seven-man board will act in an advisory capacity, but will be more representative of the average citizen's point of view.

It has been ruled also that none of the members of the new board can be a trustee of any other school district board.

The county has been divided into six districts and, although only one will be named from each district, the members will be elected at large. That is regardless of the district in which a voter resides, he will be eligible to vote for the candidates who live in the several other areas into which the county is divided. There also will be one member elected at large to represent the entire county.

Campbell and Los Gatos Union High School districts comprise Area IV.

It will be interesting to see how this new board functions. We feel that the idea has merit, but we are inclined to believe that more information is needed as to what the duties of this seven-man group will be and what authority they will have in the field of education.

As a sort of extra-curricula compensation of a non-monetary nature newspaper people are often invited to view new showings, ranging from fashions to trains. When these affairs sound interesting in one way or another from the standpoint of the food, drink, or novelty end of the deal, we try to accept such invitations.

Too often the invites for the choicest affairs all fall on Wednesday.

—o—

Those of you who have some knowledge of a weekly paper's trials and tribulations probably realize that Wednesday is THE day. That is the day that has been staring one in the face since the previous Wednesday. Provided God, the press and the other important factors are willing, the paper must make the grade that day. It generally does but there are times during the day and night when one would be flirting with bad odds, if one wanted to "make a book" on it.

This week, for example, James J. McDonough, the Southern Pacific's passenger agent, invited us along with other newspapermen of the area to take a trip on the new General Motor's experimental Aerotrain which is being exhibited in San Jose, April 2.

The exhibit follows a three-day showing of the lighweight train at San Francisco as part of GM's Motorama show. This new train S. P. people advise, will not operate in regular passenger service while it makes a swing on the S. P. tracks but railroad officials are looking it over pretty thoroughly.

The idea is to find out the advantages or disadvantages of such experimental equipment and to determine the public reaction to the novel styling. It's designed for high capacity traffic and has 10 coaches and a single-unit diesel locomotive. It can carry 400 passengers and is built lower and lighter than present streamlined train equipment.

Anyway we thought a trip on the train would be pretty good and the S. P. is treating the press to a cruise from San Jose to Salinas and back. We would have liked to make the trip. But, of couse, it has to happen on Wednesday.

We have suggested that Lester Lafferty, former publisher of The Press, go in our stead. This will be the second time that Les has substituted for us in an affair of this nature since we took over here at The Press.

Les gets quite o chuckle out of it, for now he has the time to take these jaunts which he was forced to pass up while he was running the joint.

—o—

We shot a picture of Joe Rogers last Friday as he took his last trip as a Campbell High School bus driver. Forrest Reese, chief bus man at the school, presented Joe with a life-time pass for it was quite an outstanding occasion. Joe, who now has reached the compulsory retirement age of 70, has been driving a bus for the high school district for 31 years.

That's a long-time in any league. We think that when a man pilots a bus loaded with kids for that many years without a serious mishap he deserves a medal. It's quite a record.

What surprised us was that Joe appeared still to be of an even temperament. That proves something.

Being responsib for a bunch of howling kids on a bus twice each day doesn't seem to have affected his mental equilibrium in any shape or form which is remarkable in our thinking.

We know we couldn't do it.

—o—

Darrell Rachford takes over next week as chief of police of Alturas in Modoc County. He has made a good record as sergeant on the Campbell police force and we know he will do a good job for Alturas. Darrell, having grown up there, knows what he is getting into. We mean from the residents and, of course, not, from any criminals that may be around.

He has written a letter of appreciation to the people of Campbell which we are happy to publish in this issue.

We join the rest of the community in wishing him luck in his new position.

—o—

In a weak moment we agreed this week to be master of ceremonies of the candidates' forum sponsored by the Business and Professional Women's Club of Campbell. The forum will take place next Tuesday evening in Room 84 of the high school. All the candidates for Campbell's City Council have agreed to be present and to state their platforms.

We don't know exactly what is expected from the master-of-ceremonies on such occasions other than to act as a moderator and to hold the bloodshed to a minimum.

We don't really expect any knock-down drag-out fights, especially since there is one woman, Carolyn Payne, in the race. The BPW'S are showing considerable interest in the campaign. The gals have endorsed Carolyn for the Council, which after all, is a logical move on their part.

You wouldn't expect 'em to sponsor some mere man. Would you?

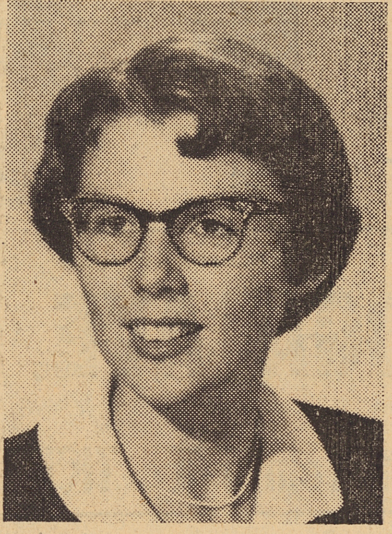
EUROPEAN SCENES
By VIRGINIA GRATTAN

Editor's Note: Virginia Grattan, former San Jose State College and Campbell High School student, has been in Europe since last August. This is another in a series of articles written by her. In this one she describes the Fashing Folk Festival of Germany.



For sometime now, I 've been trying to get some information on the folk festivals and folk lore of Germany—in particular, Fashing—but I've had very little success. I looked into libraries and in the process found the "America House" which is sponsored by the U. S. State Department as a part of the U. S. Information Agency in countries abroad.

However, all the books were on "the American way of life" (printed in German) to help the German people understand us—books on Washington and Lincoln, but nothing Fashing. I looked in more books, but found very little. Finally, I asked Johanne if she knew anything about Fashing. She said she didn't know anything about the history of it, but that she didn't care much for the wild, carefree celebrating connected with the festival. I was intrigued, and looked in more books and talked to more people, and this is what I was able to piece together.

From Middle Ages

Fashing is a folk festival dating from the middle ages. It is similar to our Mardi-Gras and Halloween. It seems to have sprung up, first, in the cities along the Rhine river, but it is also celebrated, somewhat, in Frankfurt and other large cities. The season begins around the first of the year and ends on Ash Wednesday. It is said to have been started by the church to use up the excess energy and enthusiasm of the people before the holy days of Lent and Easter.

Whatever the origin and meaning may be, Fashing is celebrated with great gusto here. Parties go on for weeks in every wine cellar and beer parlor. It is said that in Cologne some people never go to bed during Fashing, but go from work to parties and from parties to work. People spend much time and money making attractive costumes to wear in the hopes that they won't be recognized until midnight, when the masks are removed. The custom is, that the girls choose the fellows to dance with until midnight, and after that, when the masks are removed, the fellows choose the girls. This gives the men a definite advantage of seeing what they're getting.

The big ball is held on "Fastnacht", the last night of the festival. It is held in many very fashionable places as well. Perhaps the most elegant ball in Frankfurt is held at the Palmgarten, which tries to be most exclusive by charging an enormous cover charge. Nevertheless, this spot never fails to be packed on "Fastnacht".

King and Queen Reign

A King and Queen of Fashing are chosen to reign over the festivities and the parade. They are given the keys to the city by the mayor and are honored in many ways. This year they were flown to New York to publicize the celebration.

The Fashing parade, this year, came on a very cold Sunday in February, when Germany was still benumbed with winter. I had the misfortune of arriving an hour too early and not being able to wait out the time. Although it was sunny, the temperature had dropped to eight or ten below zero and after standing for 45 minutes in the cold, this Californian could take no more and had to retreat to Johanne's apartment where gradually I thawed out in front of her potbellied stove. This was the period when the Main river was frozen over, as was the Rhine and the Danube. No time for a parade, I decided.

The whole festival comes to an end on Fastnacht, the night before Ash Wednesday. Then comes Good Friday and Easter, and there are no more parties or parades for awhile.

Easter Season

Easter, I understand, is very much like our own. There are Easter eggs and games for the children, Easter bonnets for the ladies and a quiet Sabbath for the family.

That takes care of the holidays for awhile. Another item my research availed me concern superstitions. I was finally able to purchase a small book on German folk lore, which, since it was in German, I persuaded Johanne to translate for me. There were a few remarks concerning old superstitions that I found interesting.

Letter to the Editor

THANKS COMMUNITY

March 22, 1956

Editor, The Campbell Press
Sir:

I wish to take this opportunity to express my sincere gratitude to the many people of this community who have made it possible for me to carry out my job as Sgt. of the Campbell P. D. It is with regret that I leave Campbell at this time, as it stands on the threshold of growing into one of the leading communities in the Santa Clara Valley.

During my rather short stay in Campbell I have had the honor of associating and working with individuals and groups of individuals whose honesty, integrity, and public spirit are unsurpassed anywhere.

With the inauguration of the Campbell Rifle Club, for young boys, last summer, it was my pleasure to work with people in the community who took time out from their own pleasures, that their children could enjoy the facilities that had been made available for them. The facilities at the range were made available through the unselfish donations of a few local business firms. The Western Gravel Co. let us use their property and donated the use of a man and grader for an entire day at a cost of approximately $200.00 to them. The Campbell Lbr. Co. donated lumber and nails, the Southern Pacific RR donated 50 RR ties. The Campbell Press printed free of charge 200 Instruction Cards. Yet all of these organizations asked to be kept anonymous.

I feel that it is only fair that any organization who has the welfare of the youth of today at heart, be given its due credit.

It is both humorous and pathetic to look with retrospect regarding the juvenile situation in this community. It is my understanding that only a few years ago this city had one of the highest juvenile delinquency rates in the state per capita, now it has one of the lowest.

Yet when the people as a whole are called upon to aid in the establishment of a constructive program to alleviate the problems of the youth of today, they respond in the minority, with those who don't, giving the poor excuse that they don't have time.

Which road in life then does the young man and woman take? With God's will, and your help as responsible parents and interested citizens, it will be the right one—otherwise—who knows?

The Fabulous "Sky Hook"

Glenn Wallin, seated in the truck, and Joseph Harden, Jr., local linemen, are using a new self-powered telescopic boom as an aid in cable installation work. It is known as the Telsta Electric Lift. It can reach 40 feet straight up or 35 feet horizontally to bridge obstacles, and can turn a full 360 degrees. The lineman aloft can control his own course or it can be operated from the truck. It is a time saver and adds to the worker's saftey.

Mrs. Jean Heinsholm from the Girl Scout office showed slides of Camp Skylark. Troop leader Elinor Whaley gave out the badges assisted by Mrs. J. Barnett and Merril Anne Whaley.

The Pioneer Youth Fellowship of the Westhope Church sponsored by Phil and Mary Drew, went roller skating last week. About 30 members and guests made up the party.

President Dale Herschbath and the members of the fellowship are looking forward to the spring rally to be held in the Ingleside Church of San Francisco. The rally will be held the weekend of April 20, 21, 22, and a delegation from the Westhope Church will attend. The young people will be guests of San Francisco families over the week end.

Cub Scout pack 35 is holding a meeting to plan its Old Settlers' Day float. It has also entered a marching unit in the parade.

PLANNING ON PLANTING?

GARDENER'S CHECK LIST

By The California Association of Nurserymen

GARDENERS' CHECKLIST

1. Plant these seeds now in the vegetable garden: Beets, broccoli, brussel sprouts, cabbage, carrots, cauliflower, celery, endive, kale, Kohlrabi, lettuce, mustard, onions, parsley, peas, radish, rhubarb, spinach, sweet corn and turnips.
2. Spring is a most favorable time to seed new lawns.
3. All type of container grown shrubbery can be planted now.
4. Don't forget proper soil preparation. Some of the new chemical soil conditioners will render a soil loose and friable for prolonged periods of time.
5. Spring fertilized lawns are better prepared to stand the hot weather which is yet to come.

LAST CALL

BARE ROOT PLANTING

There's still time in these early Spring days to plant bare root roses and fruit trees, says the California Association of Nurserymen.

In choosing rose plants you'll find there's still a complete selection of all rose types—climbing, bush, tree, floribunda and grandiflora — at your local nursery. Choose according to the areas you wish to plant. Climbing roses are ideal, of course, for arbors, pergolas, trellises and walls. Pillar Roses, next in height to the climber, make fine background plantings and hide unattractive areas, and the tree or standard roses are perfect for lining an entrance or driveway.

Floribundas with their low bushy habit of growth form beautiful and practical hedges and covers for utilitarian-looking fences. To furnish flowers for beautiful indoor bouquets as well as attractive outdoor flowering shrubs the hybrid teas and the new grandifloras can't be beat.

Deciduous Trees

Deciduous fruit trees of all varieties can be planted in your garden now and with the proper care will be providing your family with delicious table and canning fruits in a few years. The most important factor is choosing varieties for your garden is climate.

Above all, select varieties you KNOW will grow in your locale. Ask your nurseryman for help in this choice.

Do not plant your favorite fruitstand peach, for instance, without being certain the particular variety will bear well in your garden. Choose variety according to climate—this cannot be over-emphasized.

California gardeners are indeed lucky for all the favorite fruits and nuts are grown successfully in this state. The almond, apple, apricot, crabapple, fig, filbert, nectarine, peach, pear, pecan, persimmon, plum, pomegranate, quince, sour cherry, sweet cherry, walnut — are successfully home grown throughout the state.

Rose Selections

Before making your rose selections make sure each plant is fully dormant. In selecting trees look for a good healthy tree not necessarily large because bigness does not always determine eventual performance. Smaller trees are easier to transplant and become established more quickly.

Plant both roses and fruit trees in good fertile soil in a hole large enough to allow roots to spread naturally without cramping. It's a good idea to prepare a mound at the bottom of the hole to set the plant on, setting them in at the same level as they were at the nursery (indicated by the soil ring about the roots.) Fill in and firm the soil around the roots and soak to settle the soil when the hole is 3/4 full. After the water drains away fill up with loose top soil and water again.

Choosing Bare Root Plants

If you're a "last minuter" (he who does things late) the news that there's still time for bare root planting should be a comfort to you.

You'll still find a great variety of rose bushes,. and deciduous fruit trees to plant. In deciding which kinds and sizes are best, remember there's no point in starting your garden with a handicap, which a bargain plant is likely to be. Quality costs just a little more and is much more rewarding.

Roses, you will find, are graded, numbers 1, 1½ and 2, under a standard system. Nuber 1 is the best of course because it has three or more strong canes starting three inches or less above the bud union with at least two of the canes 18 inches long. Number 1½, second best, has two or more 15 inch canes and number 2 has 2 canes of 12 inches or more.

You're wisest to choose Number 1 or 1½. Canes on the plants should be plump, fresh and heavy, the California Association of Nurserymen recommends.

In selecting the right kinds of fruit trees look for healthy plants, good sized, but not necessarily tall, for bigness doesn't necessarily guarantee outstanding performance.

REPRESENTATIVE IN CONGRESS
TENTH DISTRICT, CALIFORNIA

Something new in communications techniques came across my desk this week. Constituents wishing to contact their congressman usually choose the mail, telegrams, or telephone calls to get in touch with me if they are unable to come in person. But a group of enterprising young men at San Jose State College found yet another way.

Seems that members of the Spar Vets Club, an organization of service veterans pursuing courses of study at the college, became interested in legislation increasing the allowance of G. I. students. They were interested enough to read up on it, and to let their Representative-in-Congress know that they wanted him to support it. So far all was "normal", but the veteran students were looking for a way to emphasize the importance of their request, and they decided to do it by communicating their message through an unusual channel.

The vehicle they chose was W6YL, a ham radio station in San Jose. Soon thereafter, the air waves buzzed in the manner approved by amateur radio fans, and a message, addressed to me, went on its way. Somewhere along the way, a ham station called W3UE picked it up and handed it on to W3WV which is located here in Washington.

Its operator, Leo Young, typed it up neatly on a form of the American Radio Relay League, and the next morning it was on my desk. At about the same time, the telephone rang. "This is the Pentagon radio room. We have a message for you." Seems the radio boys at the Defense Department who monitor the air constantly, also had picked up the message and they phoned it in.

I am very proud of the boys at San Jose State! Not only did they have a legitimate case, but they also found an ingenious and novel way of bringing it to their congressman's attention, making sure he would notice it. I was glad that, through the facilities of radio, I was able to reply via W6YL that I am happy to support this legislation. Having gone through college on rather insufficient funds myself, I know how they feel. And more power to them for their enterprise and ingenuity!
